Introduction

Regenesys Institute of Management is a constituent of Regenesys Business School. Located in Johannesburg, Regenesys Business School is ranked one of the top 5 business schools of South Africa (PMR Africa, 2015 and 2016). Since 1998, the institute has educated over 1,20,000 students across 195 countries.

In keeping with the Regenesys mission of awakening individual's dormant potential, the institute, since its inception, has helped students rediscover themselves. It has been mentoring students and transforming them into confident professionals prepared to take on the world. The unique multicountry programmes not only give students a world-class qualification but groom them to become leaders.

Regenesys offers the unique advantage of superior networking opportunities with the best of the best in the world. Interacting with our global network of business practitioners and speakers, with vast experience in running businesses, innovating, executing and answering the challenges our clients face every day, empowers you. We challenge, provoke and excite, globally across all industries and sectors, at CEO and executive level, changing minds, shifting boundaries and inspiring new thinking.

Eminent speakers who have graced us with their presence and mentor-ship include the current President of South Africa Hon. Cyril Ramaphosa, Dr. Ramon Casadesus-Masanell Harvard professor, Forbes Africa Business woman of the Year 2015 and Shanduka CEO, Phuti Mahanyele and many more. Regenesys develops analytical thinkers, problem solvers, emotionally intelligent and value-driven leaders who are able to operate successfully in a dynamic global environment.
